Santa Fe Society Notes

OCTOBER. October's a brunette— Nut-brown is the hue of her. You must take a walk to get Any bronzer view of her. She will set the pace— Set it swift and easily, With a smile upon her face, Happily and breezily.

REVENGE. I've quit a-goin' to Sunday school— I'm goin' to be as bad As Captain Kidd or Nero was. Or Jimmy Mayer's dad, I'm goin' to be so awful mean, I'm sure to go to hell; An' when I see the devil, then I'll go to him an' tell How that of man what catches dogs An' coaxed Spout right into his net An' druck him away. An' then I'll say, "Good devil, please I've come down here to work; I'm just as strong as any man, An' I'll never shirk. If you'll just let me tend the fire An' keep it good an' hot, Where you have put that wicked man Who took away old Spot." —Ralph Bacon, "Texas Republic."

IN HONOR OF MRS. MECHEM. Mrs. M. C. Mechem is a guest at the home of Misses Conrad and Olsen in Buena Vista heights, and will remain here next week, Judge Mechem returning home on Friday. She was the guest of honor at a luncheon given at El Ortiz, Lamy, by Miss Conrad. Covers were laid for ten. The decorations were yellow chrysanthemums and the affair was a most enjoyable one. The trip to Lamy and home was made in automobile. The same afternoon Mrs. J. W. Johnson entertained delightfully at a bridge. There were six tables of bridge.

AT CARDS. The Friday club was the guest of Mrs. Frank W. Parker. The Monday club will meet tomorrow with Mrs. Hugh H. Gilmour who carried off the prize at last week's meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. L. O. Gilbert. The guests at the latter meeting besides the club members were Mrs. Francis C. Wilson and Miss Ruth Laughlin. The floral decorations were chrysanthemums. The fifteen club met with Mrs. B. M. Thomas Friday afternoon, with Mrs. L. H. Rapp presiding. Mrs. Frank Newhall read a paper by Mrs. R. H. Hanting, who is in Albuquerque with Judge Hanna, on "Santa Fe Today," which dwelt especially with the civic deeds of the capital.

MENS CONSCIA RECTI. Oh, Jim, I'm in an awful row With Miss Pascoe—although I vow I'll be made, I don't see how I'm certain that I meant no harm. You see, I'd offered her my arm. Before I noticed, with alarm, There really was not room to dance. I didn't care to take a chance. So I'm prepared with a tender glance. "Instead of talking, let's chat." "I can't see room to swing a cat!" Pray was there any harm in that? Then why did she get on her ear; And walk away with haughty air? My words were very queer! —George B. Morewood, in Lippincott.

ART AND LITERATURE. E. L. Coone, the last of the artist colony at Taos to leave for the east after a productive summer, passed through Santa Fe a few days ago homeward bound. J. H. Sharp has one of his Taos pictures on exhibit at the fifth annual exhibition of the California Art club at Exposition park, Los Angeles. It is his splendid canvas "Indian at Mass," reproducing the artist's vision of an impressive scene at Taos. Dr. Hector Allot, the versatile artist and dramatic critic, who lectured here for the summer school at Santa Fe, is favorably remembered by Santa Feans, appears as the author of a 120-page volume that represents a work that should also be done for the current number of the bibliography of Arizona, and is mainly a record of the literature collected by Dr. Joseph Amasa Munk, who has also been a Santa Fe summer school attendant and who made a present of his library of 7,000 volumes of Arizona literature to the Southwest museum of which Charles F. Lummis, of the school of American Archaeology at Santa Fe, is the founder emeritus. This library of Arizona, of course, after a productive summer, passed through Santa Fe a few days ago homeward bound. Dr. Allot, who is a curator of the museum, has catalogued it under the names of the authors, followed by a subject catalogue and a general index. The volume has for its frontispiece a fine portrait of Dr. Munk and is rich in other illustrations. Head bands of native wild flowers of Arizona representing a great variety of types, views of the desert, Indians and the industrial and agricultural pursuits of the neighboring state, precede each chapter. It is a work of love that required much time and painstaking research on the part of Dr. Allot.

A DESERT SONG. When I came out on Santa Fe By desert road through night and day, The wilds of God ran far and free, And sweet the wind of desert sea. But ah! my heart—to know again The scent of rain, the scent of rain! And I'd in fancy scale the air Beyond those yellow mountain bare, And so with dizzy bird survey A thousand miles of shining day. But oh! my heart to know again The dark of rain, the dark of rain! And I would glean the gold of sun, And mark his curving glory run In fiery course, and eager turn My cheek and palate grow to burn, But oh! my heart—to feel again The kiss of rain, the kiss of rain! —John Galworthy, in Scribner's Magazine.

CARDS. Mrs. R. P. Ervin entertained informally Tuesday afternoon at an auction bridge in honor of Mrs. Gardewell, Mrs. Florence Spitz. The guests were from the younger set Mrs. Standig, G. Small won the prize. A grand prize went to Mrs. Gardewell. Two card parties were given this week by Mrs. E. R. Wright, one on Wednesday and the other on Thursday afternoon. The refreshments, prizes—all were recherche. Wednesday afternoon the guests of honor were Mrs. M. C. Mechem of Socorro, Mrs. Ralph C. Ely of Deering, and Mrs. J. H. Daxton of Las Cruces; the other guests being Mrs. L. A. Hughes, Mrs. R. P. Ervin, Mrs. James L. Selzman, Mrs. Jacob Weltner, Mrs. L. E. Jones, Mrs. Harry T. Boring, Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Mrs. Frank W. Parker, Mrs. James A. French, Mrs. Paul A. F. Walter, Mrs. N. B. Laughlin, Mrs. Arthur Soligman, Mrs. A. B. Henehan, Mrs. Carl Bishopp, Mrs. C. E. Roberts, Mrs. S. Spitz, Mrs. R. J. Paine, Mrs. Francis. Thursday afternoon the guests were Mrs. W. G. Sargent, Mrs. Frank Lavan, Mrs. C. C. Catron, Mrs. S. G. Small, Mrs. L. O. Moore, Mrs. Albert Clark, Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Mrs. Ira L. Grisham, Mrs. John B. Manns, Mrs. R. L. Ormsbee, Mrs.

partment and Mrs. Katherine Higgin, Mrs. Pritchett, who teaches school at Madrid, southern Santa Fe country, and formerly taught at Lamy. She was therefore thoroughly cognizant with her subject, "How the Clubs May Co-operate with the Schools." Mrs. Faith sang "The Good Bye," tenderly, charmingly and elicited pronounced applause. Mrs. W. H. Pope, who presided, congratulated Mrs. Pritchett and the club upon the presidency of the state federation and the club greeted her with the Chautauque salute. After the address by Mrs. Pritchett a tea was served in the Rito de los Frijoles room, gorgeous chrysanthemums and other blossoms giving a festal air to the social part of the meeting, which was in charge of Mrs. Charles A. Hayes and Mrs. S. G. Morley.

CHIEF JUSTICE OBSERVES BIRTHDAY. In celebration of the birthday anniversary of Chief Justice Clarence J. Doherty, Mrs. Roberts on Wednesday evening entertained at dinner. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. M. C. Mechem of Socorro, Secretary of State and Mrs. Antonio Lucero, Dr. J. A. Mangle, Miss Mangle, E. E. Davies, besides the members of the family of the hostess.

FAREWELL PARTY. Invitations are out by Miss Ramona Back for a Hallowe'en party on Tuesday evening, which will be in the nature of a farewell to Miss Leila Gallaher and Miss Anita Bass, both of whom will shortly leave for southern California to spend the winter.

THIMBLE PARTY. The Misses Spitz, Harrison, Morrison, Lucero, Mueller, Laughlin and Mrs. Hayden were guests of Misses Marron and Gallaher Friday afternoon at the sanitarium at a thimble party.

DANCING. The dance at the Public library, under the auspices of the Woman's Board of Trade, opened the dancing season with a bang. The same evening the Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen were hosts at a dance in their hall. Those who did not dance
